International Coastal Cleanup 2022 Yields 100% Greater Impact for Aruba

EAGLE BEACH, Aruba – Sept. 19, 2022 – Celebrating International Coastal Clean-up Day on Sept. 17, 2022, Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort, Aruba amassed more than 100 volunteers to join the global community in Fighting for Trash Free Seas®. Leading the world effort is the Ocean Conservancy.

Bucuti & Tara guest volunteers joined resort staff and their families and friends, Park Arikok staff, and along with more than 60 students from the University of Aruba and International School came together at Dunes Beach behind the California Lighthouse.

This year's collected debris doubled what was gathered in 2021 during the International Coastal Cleanup® Day at Arashi. Project partner Park Arikok graciously hauled away two huge trucks filled with the shoreline debris.

The collaborative effort led by the Caribbean's first certified carbon-neutral hotel also included transportation, food and drinks, and supplies. Bucuti & Tara Executive Chef Alex and the Elements restaurant staff prepared sandwiches for everyone. Team members also provided ice water, guidance along the beach, and made sure participants had buckets and gloves during the cleanup. Fofoti donated a comfortable air-conditioned bus.

Kinziah Rodriguez, Cruise Operations Supervisor of Fofoti shared their participation in this year's International Coastal Cleanup Day reminded them of the Jennifer Nini quote, "We can't just consume our way to a more sustainable world.” Rodriguez went on to add to that, “but we can take part in help saving the world for our own tomorrows.”

Dunes Beach, protected by Park Arikok, is a popular nesting place for vulnerable sea turtles. During this year’s beach cleanup, there were three turtle nests. By removing debris and relocating driftwood further from the coastline, hatchlings taking their first steps will have a better passage to sea.

“Plastic debris in particular is now found at every level of the sea from shoreline to seabed. While Aruba has banned single-use plastic, this global issue continues to threaten the island’s delicate sea life,” shares participant Ewald Biemans, Owner/CEO of Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort, Aruba. “Bucuti & Tara supplements this annual global coastal beach cleanup with monthly beach cleanups that bring together guests and staff to keep the resort’s stretch of Eagle Beach safe and pristine.”
