Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort, School Children and Teachers Planting Seeds of Hope this Earth Day

EAGLE BEACH, Aruba – April 5, 2024 – Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort, Aruba is inviting local school children to sow the seeds of change and cultivate a brighter, greener future for Aruba and beyond in celebration of Earth Day 2024. On Earth Day, Apr. 22, staff members, children and teachers from nearby Mon Plaisir Primary School along with staff of Queen Beatrix International Airport will gather. Together, the group will gather with members of Ban Lanta y Planta to plant indigenous trees at The Bucuti Tara - GMC Nature Preserve, a sanctuary of hope for Aruba's future generation located in busy Noord.

Cultivating a greener legacy

While Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort may be Aruba's premier adults-only resort, it has long been deeply committed to fostering environmental stewardship and community engagement at all ages. The resort looks forward to welcoming local children to "dig in" for Aruba's future during this special Earth Day planting initiative. This opportunity lets the younger generation connect with nature, learn about sustainability and play a pivotal role in the island's conservation efforts. The Bucuti Tara - GMC Nature Preserve, a 30-acre/12-hectare prime expanse of land, is dedicated by Bucuti & Tara, Ewald Biemans and island friend Greta Marie Case to the island's future generations including the very children who will be participating on Earth Day.

"Working together this Earth Day is more than planting trees, it's about passing along our knowledge and bolstering hope for the future," says Ewald Biemans, Owner/CEO of Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort. "By involving our local children to participate alongside us, we aim to instill a sense of environmental responsibility and empower them to become stewards of our precious planet."

The Earth Day tree-planting event will contribute to the preservation of Aruba's natural landscape while serving as a catalyst for meaningful intergenerational dialogue on the importance of environmental conservation. Through hands-on participation, children will gain invaluable insights into the significance of protecting the planet. The Bucuti Tara - GMC Nature Preserve is in Phase 1 of planting 15,000 trees, which will draw down 375 tCO2 emissions annually for cleaner air benefiting everyone in Aruba.

Protecting Aruba's future, today

This collaborative endeavor underscores Bucuti & Tara's almost four decades and the Biemans' family's six decades of unwavering commitment to sustainability and community involvement. With a steadfast focus on eco-friendly practices, the resort has earned numerous accolades, including its current celebration of 25 years of Green Globe certification and recognition as the Caribbean's first and only certified carbon-neutral hotel. These sustainability successes have put a spotlight on Aruba as the world works to combat the destructive effects of climate change.
